We Dedicate Our Bicentennial “Eagle” To You

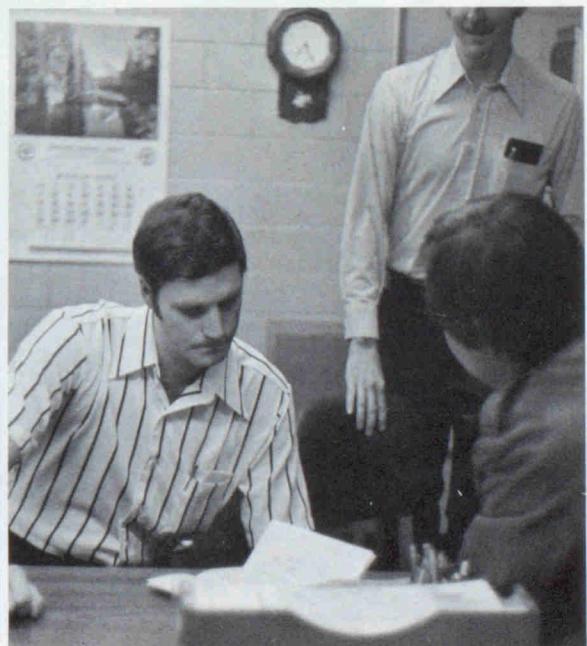

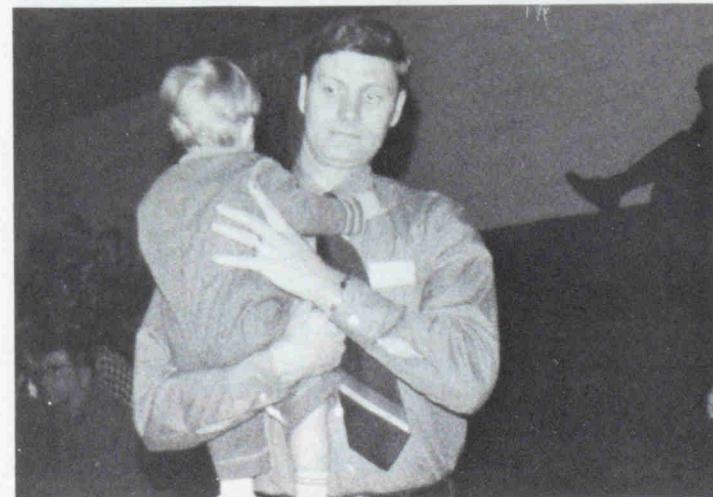

Memorable Quotes from the Year of a Dedicated Principal:

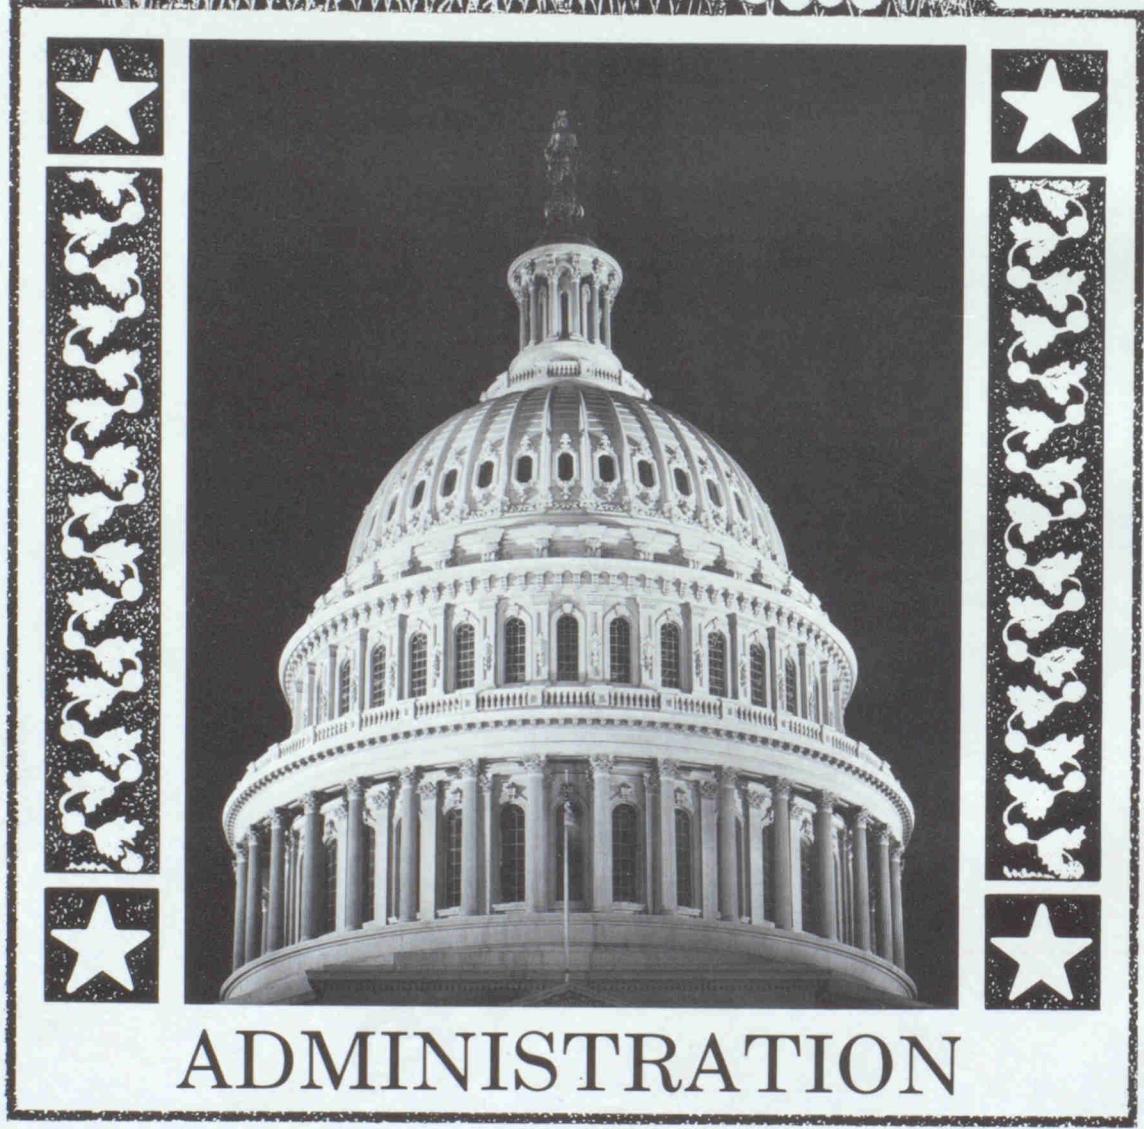

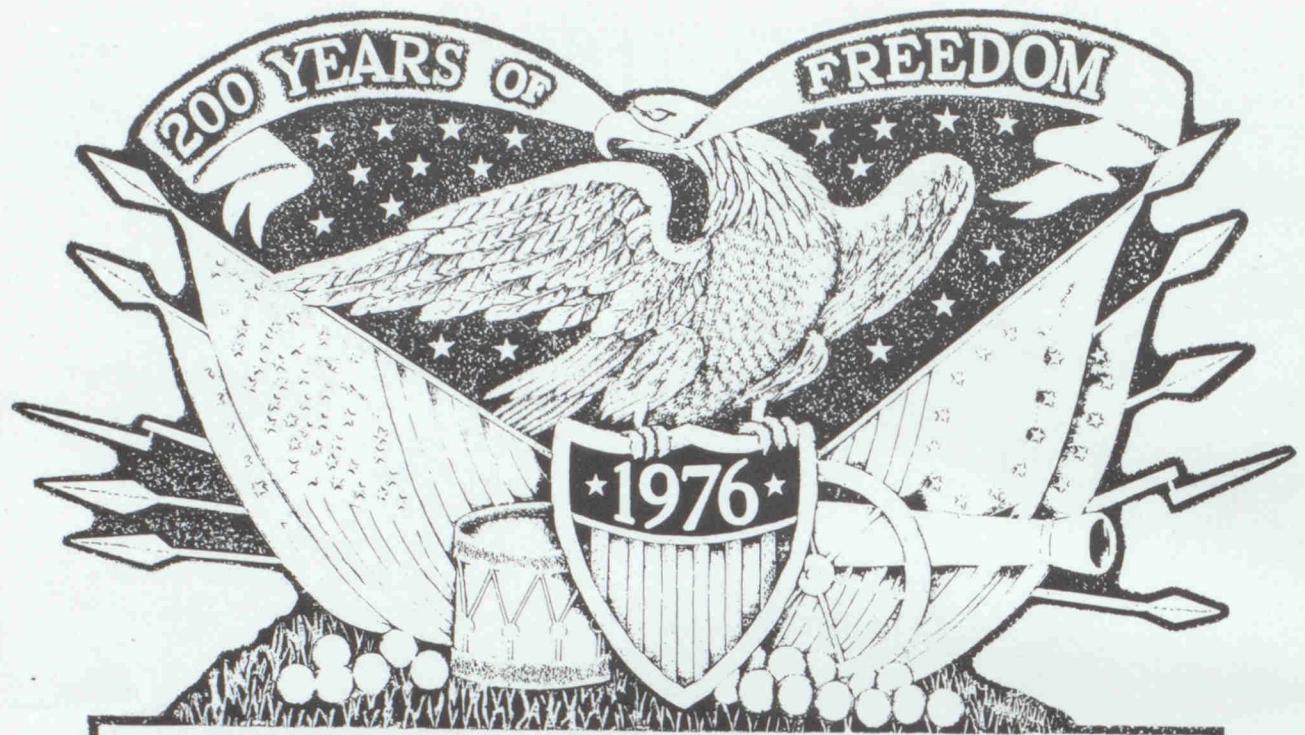

"Except for the students, faculty, staff, and parents, being a Principal presents few problems."

"May I interrupt for this announcement? We will have no pep bus this week unless all the buses are returned to us by noon Friday."

"I appreciate your suggestions, but I still prefer patience and understanding to sidearms and German shepards."

You came to us as a Jr. High teacher; look where you stand now. You have done many things for yourself, for your community, but more importantly for your school in attaining your goals. For these many things we would like to dedicate the 1975-76 Eagle to you, Mr. Heller.

To the Bicentennial Class of '76:

This year marks the 200th anniversary of our great nation and you, as a graduate of the Class of 1976, should be proud of your accomplishments as well as those of our country.

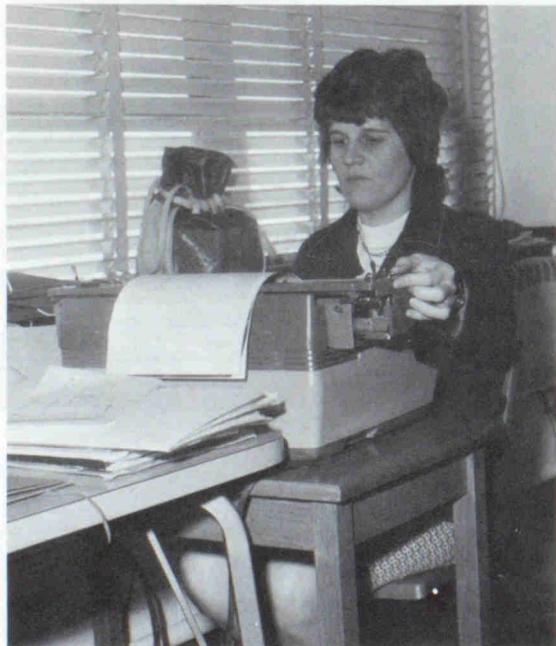

I hope that you will not be satisfied with what you have achieved in the past but will continue to set high goals for yourself in the future. The founders of this nation knew that great things were in store for people who were willing to work hard; the same remains for you.

I wish each of you continued success as you leave DeLand-Weldon High School.

This year's Student Council started out the year slowly by supplying change for the football games. Then the Homecoming finally arrived and all the preparations were made even though no one could come up with anything that satisfied everyone; but it was pulled off and everything went well, with a lot of thanks to the Booster Club.

The Council had movies for the student body the last day before Christmas Vacation.

In the future the Council would like to take a trip to see a college Student Council in action in order to learn more about Student Government.

This year lettermans club had big plans. Their main goal was to earn money in work projects to buy a stereo-tape sound system for the gym, locker room, and weight room or a whirl-pool for injured athletes or a panel board for the new score board. Both Mr. Kimble and Mr. Lenz were excited with the aspect of getting this new equipment because they thought it would be extremely useful.

D-W STAFF RECORDS MEMORIES

Since this was our nation's 200th birthday, we decided to use the bicentennial theme. We also used famous quotes throughout the book which strangely enough still fit our lifestyle today.

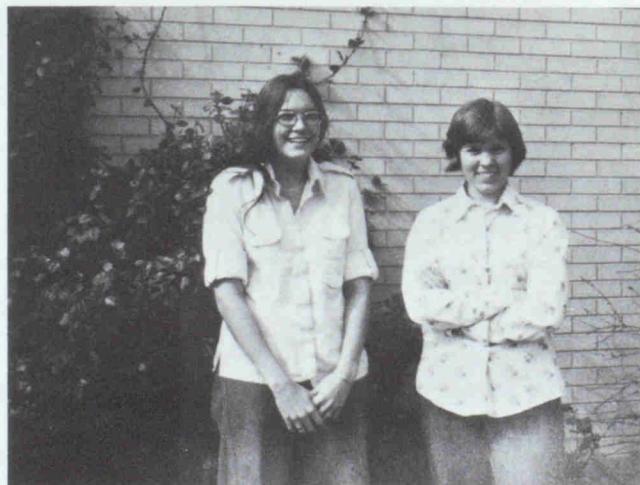

During the year we ran into trouble with a broken camera and other problems, but with the hard work put out by the staff we came through again. Special thanks to Mrs. Blackburn for all her help.

VOCAL EXPRESSION

This year the chorus was very active all year long. In the fall a potluck and winter concert kept them busy. Followed by their musical "Anything Goes." The spring was filled with preparation for contest and also the spring concert. Chorus ended the year by singing for the baccalaureate services.

WICHITA BAND ...

and marching contests at the U. of I., I.S.U., and Champaign Central the band received many trophies, several of which were first places.

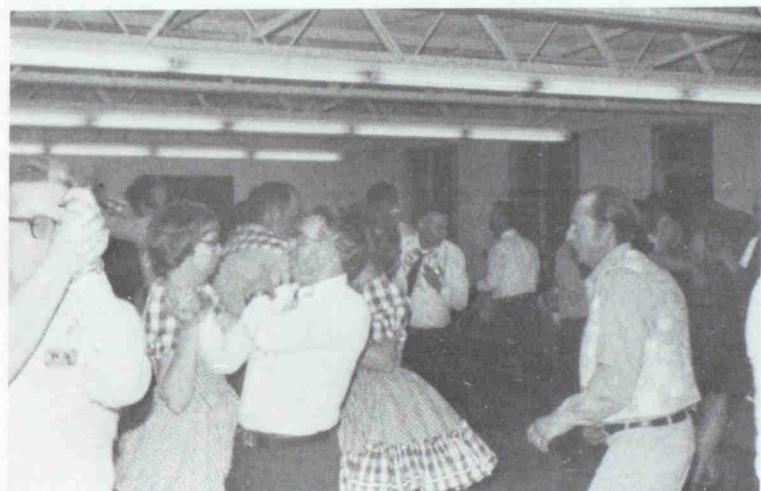

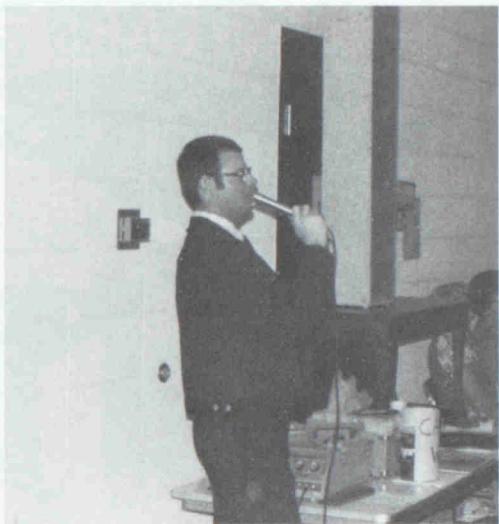

Many fund raising activities were carried out by the band. This included orange and grapefruit sales, a pop bottle drive, a square dance, and a spaghetti supper. All profit from those and other projects are going toward buying badly needed new uniforms for marching band.

After marching band was finished the band performed at basketball games and at winter and spring concerts at the school. In the end it resulted as a very good year for the band.

The band started off the year with long, hard practices for the marching season. This was the first year they had marched corps style, and it demanded extra effort by all the members. It was worth it in the end, though. After performing in Fairbury's Christmas Parade

When most teams go through an 0-9 season, there is very little to give a positive reflection; but this was not true of our 1975 Eagle football team. We scored more points than last year's team. We have a very gutty bunch of football players and will have brighter days in the years ahead. Confidence, desire, and dedication will take us to the top of the Sangamon Valley Conference.

Our season started out on a good note with our record at 3-0 before we lost to Argenta. Then we lost our leading scorer, Scott Sprague with an ankle injury. Over the Christmas Holiday, we traveled to Monticello. We lost in the first game to Gibson City, but beat Bement and LeRoy for the Consolation Championship trophy. Right before the Eagle Classic we got Scott Sprague back but lost Scot King with an ankle injury. We, then, got back on track winning 6 out of the next 9 games before we lost to Wapella in the second game of the Regional. Ending the season with a 13-13 record and a 4-5 conference record.

Lots of enthusiastic fans backed the cheerleaders this year in both football and basketball. The support from both the students and parents really helped the cheerleaders and was appreciated by both squads.

For the first time ever, volleyball was offered to the high school girls. Miss Harris, the new P. E. teacher was asked to coach.

Eleven girls went out. There were two teams, J. V. and Varsity. The girls first year at volleyball was a little rough, because of the small number that participated. Next year's prospect for a better season are bright because a larger number of girls plan on going out.

Catherine Mpitou from Greece was our AFS student for 1975-76. While Cathy was here, she lived with the Don Hermann family. Cathy was very active in our school during her stay. She participated in AFS, French Club, GAA, prompter of the senior play, and was quite active with the senior class itself. At the end of the year, she joined the seniors on their senior trip to the Ozarks. We enjoyed Cathy very much and will miss her when she leaves. We hope Cathy had a nice time here and will come back and see us.

SENIORS PRESENT

April 30, 1976 the senior class presented "Second Time Around." Their main character Marion Pendergast was played by Karen Baker who wished she had a second chance to relive her life. Marion received her wish when her husband sent her a white elephant that granted her wish. Many problems arose with her life change--making her change her wish and promising never again to complain about wanting a second chance. The director was Mr. Phillip Blazier and student directed by Gina Baker.

MUSIC, STUDENTS PROVE

The Chorus and Band State Solo and Ensemble contest was held at Millikin University this year in Decatur.

The Band was very successful with ten firsts, six seconds, and was the overall winner in their division for the number of firsts they received. Judging was a little stiffer with the chorus, but they came out well with one first and six seconds.

"PRECIOUS AND FEW"

This was the theme of the Junior-Senior prom which was held at the Holiday Inn in Decatur on May 15.

Program consisted of James Reed welcoming everyone and Nancy Reynolds with a thank you response from the Senior Class. A delicious meal was then enjoyed by all. Following the buffet dinner, the night was spent dancing to a very lively rock band. After-prom was held back at the Monticello Bowling Alley where everyone could bowl and eat to their hearts content.

The special night has come and gone and all that's left are the memories which are too "Precious and Few" to forget.

THE FIRST 200 YEARS

A knowledge of American history is an invitation to experience the accomplishment, drama, tragedy and hope of an infant nation struggling to grow up. Sturdy, determined pioneers hacked away at the edges of a raw continent and, with blunders and achievements alike, modeled a country with a spirited nature and a united commitment to individual liberty for every one of its citizens. Americans, great and not so great, have given us a heritage to carry on and improve upon. Farmers and soldiers, industrialists and merchants, dreamers and leaders, are all there in two centuries of progress.

But the maturing isn't finished. You'll find the boundaries of growth as endless today as when our forefathers first envisioned them. You can seek out your own destiny with the wisdom and judgement which comes with re-creation of the past. Your knowledge, dreams and industry will carry on through many more centuries of living history.

"Everything that is right or reasonable pleads for separation. The blood of the slain, the weeping voice of nature cries, 'tis time to part." — Thomas Paine.

CHAPTERS OF AMERICAN HISTORY

The Stamp Act of 1765 was an attempt by England to tax items that were wholly American. The colonists reacted in seething resentment which erupted into angry protestations. The first blood of the American Revolution was spilled during one such incident at Boston in 1770. Several Americans lost their lives over a snowball thrown at a British sentry.

In the fight to achieve commerce equality, the United States found itself in a naval war over shipping lanes. Fort McHenry was heroically held during a British naval bombardment, and the stars and stripes still flew after a night of hard fighting. The next morning Francis Scott Key penned the immortal words of what would become the national anthem.

Settlers had to have permanent access to the new lands, so canals and bridges were built to carry stages and wagon trains loaded with machinery destined for settlements in the West. The pioneers foresaw great wealth in the cheap acreage that was available.

Frontiersmen cleared the wilderness, built settlements and drove back the Indians. The Pony Express and the telegraph became primary means of communication.

Agriculture was the wealth of the country. American inventions of the time were often related to working the soil. The McCormick Reaper, mowing machines, textile looms and the cotton gin were instrumental in the settling of new frontiers.

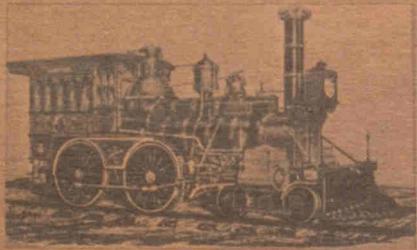

In 1848, James Marshall found gold in the race of a sawmill he was building for John Sutter at Coloma, California. The lust to "get rich quick" was the force behind this biggest and gaudiest gold rush ever.

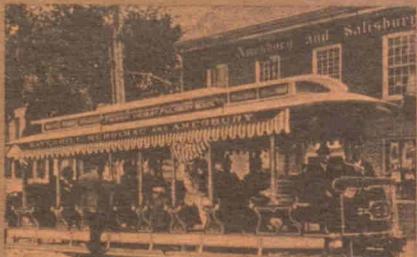

While "gold rush fever" gripped the country, states were increasingly more divided on the slavery issue. Civil War broke out in the East. This "Brothers War" was bitterly fought and, though the scars remain even today, slavery was abolished.

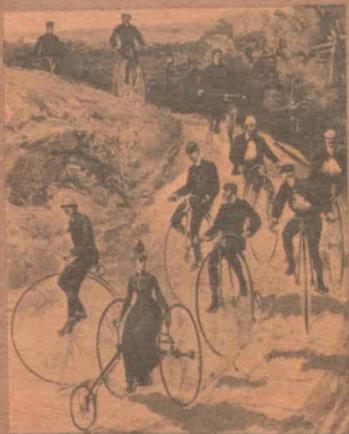

Cities grew at an alarming pace; often without regard to the limits of safety. The great Chicago fire of 1871 burned the bustling cattle market empire beyond recognition. But the pioneer spirit was not broken. Chicagoans began rebuilding and preparations were underway to celebrate the 100th birthday of the country.

The "Iron Horse," carrying homesteaders, greatly helped settlement of the new country. The first transcontinental railroad connected the country at Promontory Summit, Utah, on May 10, 1869.

Transportation was setting the pattern for the American way of life. The country became a mobile society with electric trolleys, automobiles, farm machinery, and bicycles, all the rage. Along with the accessibility of travel came a new era of nationalism.

A World War called upon the nation's young men to unite and fight. After the war in Europe, the nation pulled itself together and industry flourished once again. A carefree America buried war memories in the new moving pictures, telephones, light bulbs, electric generators, stock market ticker tape machines, phonographs and a wealth of inventions from the fertile minds of its young inventors. Baseball became the national sport and prohibition was law.

Black Thursday, October 24, 1929, saw the American stock market crash to the lowest level in history. Panic set in as the unemployment level skyrocketed. The country was in its worst economic crisis. Slowly, but surely, the wounds of the "crash," the "dust bowl," and poverty healed.

The steel industry geared up for the revival while rumors were whispered in the Roosevelt administration of another impending war. The nation's leaders scoffed, until December 7, 1941

Pearl Harbor!

Industrial production reached a peak during the war years. Upon their return from four years of battle, the veterans forged ahead with an eye on a "better life for everyone." Several moderate recessions in the 50's and 60's reminded cautious citizens of past decades.

Huge strides were being taken in the scientific field. Television became a part of every family's life. National events were household topics — while they happened — thanks to the new medium. Individuals and groups were seen "on the tube" as they advocated new social reform, or justice, or special causes of their own. TV gave individuals and political systems power greater than ever before. Audio-visual journalism had made its impact.

Nearly 100 years of struggling for civil liberties were realized when President Lyndon Baines Johnson signed the Civil Rights Act of 1964 into law. The Act outlawed segregation in any form.

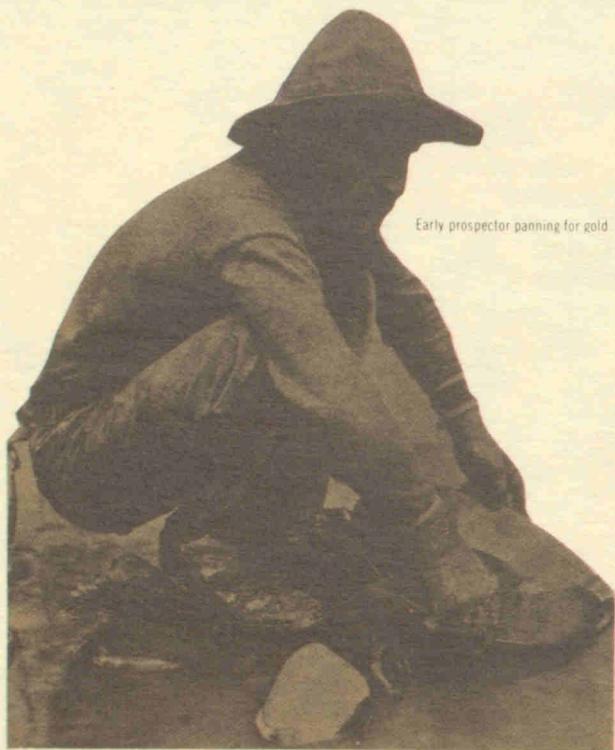

The seventies shed light on a new trouble for the nation as it approached its 200th birthday. The world's energy sources and natural resources were being used up faster than they could be replenished. Americans once again waded into a new frontier. The "energy crisis" and "ecology" were prominent words in the language. Ways to save nature from the neglect of mankind and ways of preserving precious fuel without damaging that balance of nature were the objectives of Americans across the country.

Earth's crises spurred Americans into further pioneering. This time ... outer space. American astronauts were the first on the surface of the moon and the U.S. was first to build a "skylab" for more scientific study.

America is still learning and growing after a mere 200-year infancy. The original determination of our forefathers was told again in the words of Neil Armstrong as he made the first step on the moon ... "a small step for man, but a giant step for mankind."

THE CHANGING NATION

Ownership of land had been just a dream to most of the colonists from feudal England. With the great expanse of cheap land opening up in the West, the dream became reality.

The Louisiana Purchase of 1803 opened the first sizable frontier in the Midwest, but the nation was not ready for it yet. It took a growing market in the East, where land was getting high-priced and scarce, and development of good transportation, to really start the frontier movement.

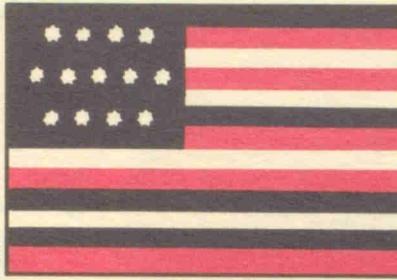

The Gold Rush caused hordes of settlers to take various routes to the Pacific Coast and its yellow riches. The railroads brought farmers and ranchers, along with the miners, who decided to stop all along the routes and build their homes. Railroads were instrumental in the quick civilization of the West, bringing people in numbers so large that the resentful Indians were finally pushed back into unwanted and infertile areas.

America became a haven for immigrants from every nation as freedom beckoned them to the teeming cities of the East, the plains, and the rich west coast farmlands.

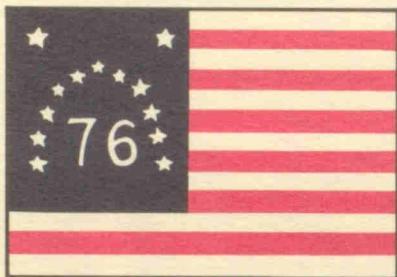

Sick of the Civil War and with their own lands divided up and lost, many Southerners set out to "begin again" in the virgin territories. "Westering" soon became the national tradition as North and South moved together toward a new life. Americanism was advanced socially, by the hard-working, bare-fisted types who settled the frontiers.

NECESSITY IS THE MOTHER OF . . .

SUBMARINE

COTTON GIN (Model)

TELEPHONE

Without realizing it, England instilled in the colonists the individual purpose and ingenuity that necessity breeds. With trade goods cut to a minimum, determined young leaders of the time set out to find ways of surviving without support from the Mother Country.

Agricultural methods and machines and labor saving devices were designed by our forefathers. As frontiers opened, Yankee genius had to conquer natural barriers in the wild new country, so suspension bridges were invented and methods of transportation were perfected for the purpose of opening the untamed areas. Later, they sought to section off the land with the revolutionary and controversial invention — barbed wire.

Cooper's 1-horsepower Tom Thumb train in 1830 and later, automobiles like the first Model T, and the 4-horsepower airplane; became American modes of travel from city to city and coast to coast.

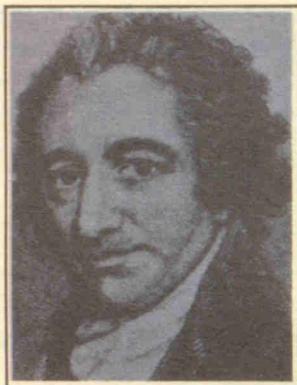

Americans knew that the fertile lands of this nation would produce unequalled harvests if machines were designed to take over for man. They knew also that trade routes were difficult to travel and manufacturing would have to be done close to home. The cotton gin, textile looms, drill presses and a reaper which could cut six times as much grain as a hand scythe were some of the tools invented.

Protection for themselves and for their young country prodded inventors like Eli Whitney to perfect firearms and others to work on plans for the first submarine. Young inventors like Alexander Graham Bell and Thomas Edison (called the nation's most valuable citizen) visualized machines that would light the country and open up communication with those in the far corners of the nation. The telephone, telegraph, phonograph and the first light bulb were discovered in the late 1800's and early twentieth century. This American way of doing for oneself inspired many to become inventors in their own right. Some sought to save labor and mass-produce for profit while others envisioned not only riches, but excitement and adventure as they discovered ways to defy nature.

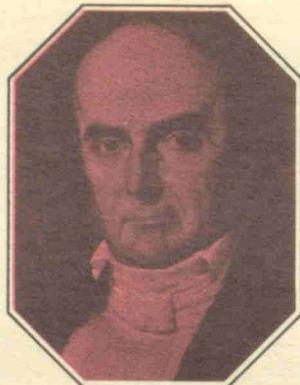

Throughout the past 200 years the American mind has been unleashed to take whatever paths necessary to fulfill the needs. In the last half-century, the pace of discovery has been overwhelming and inventions for the taming of the universe lie in the grasp of America while the habit of "finding a way" is ingrained in its people. The seeds of industrial America were sown by these inventors resulting in today's mechanized society.

THEY MADE THEIR MARK

Men and women who helped shape America's history

THOMAS PAINE, a bankrupt Quaker corsetmaker, sometime teacher, preacher and grocer, wrote the most brilliant pamphlet of the American Revolution. His words in Common Sense reflected longings and aspirations that have remained part of American culture to this day.

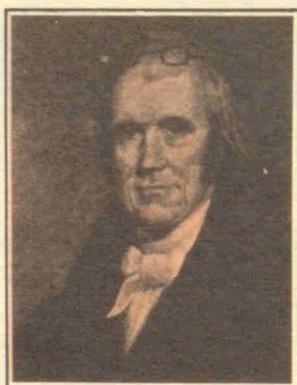

DANIEL WEBSTER chose law as a career and went on to become well-known in the courts and in politics. He was twice Secretary of State with an eye always to the Presidency which eluded him.

DOROTHEA DIX worked her entire adult life for reform of the existing penal and mental institutions in the mid-1800's. The first state hospital in the nation at Trenton, New Jersey was a direct result of her efforts.

The creator of the Cherokee alphabet, SEQUOYAH, was an artist, writer and silversmith. He used a simple 1821 English primer to compose the characters. The famous redwood trees of the Pacific coast bear his name.

Chief Justice JOHN MARSHALL established fundamental principles of American constitutional law. He is noted for his precedental declaration of a Congressional act as unconstitutional. He served through five administrations, from 1801-1835.

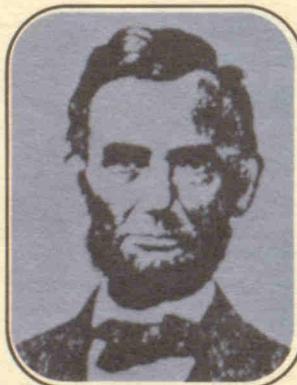

Born a slave in Maryland, FREDERICK DOUGLASS taught himself to read and write secretly and, at 21, escaped to freedom. He was an ardent abolitionist campaigning successfully for Negro suffrage and civil rights.

"The New Colossus," a sonnet composed by EMMA LAZARUS in 1883 is inscribed on a bronze tablet at the base of the Statue of Liberty. She organized relief for Jews and helped fugitives from the Czar's ghettos to establish homes in America.

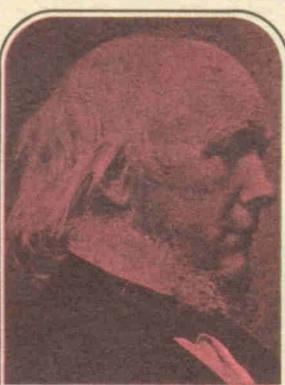

AMELIA JENKS BLOOMER, best known for a mode of dress she adopted during her campaign for equal rights for women. Though ridiculed until she gave up the costume, the term "bloomer" came to symbolize woman's bid for individual freedom.

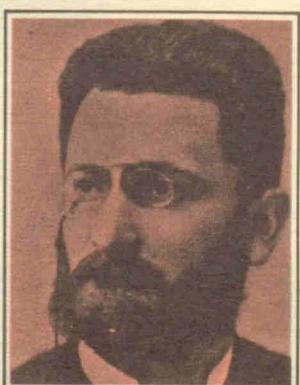

ABRAHAM LINCOLN epitomized the American dream of a humble young man ascending to the highest office of the land. He was superbly skilled at analyzing complex issues and translating them into meaningful words for the public. He was devoted to the preservation of the Union.

HARRIET BEECHER STOWE wrote Uncle Tom's Cabin in an effort to make the whole nation realize the inhumanity of slavery. Her book resulted in one of the most popular and controversial plays on the American stage. The Civil War was kindled by this work.

HORACE GREELEY'S admonition to "Go West, young man" was a rallying cry of the pioneers of America. He was founder and editor of the New York Tribune. He was best known for his philosophy of social reform and his unsuccessful bid for the Presidency in 1872.

JOSEPH PULITZER was the first journalist to reach a truly massive audience. His New York World newspaper was the symbol of "yellow journalism" with its sensationalism aimed at the common man.

ANDREW CARNEGIE was a giant in the railroad and steel industries. He believed that it was the duty of a rich man to distribute his wealth during his lifetime. To that end, he established 2800 libraries and many cultural halls throughout America.

A lifetime passion for machinery led HENRY FORD to Detroit where, in 1896, he completed his first motor vehicle. The Ford Motor Company manufactured the first "Model T" in 1909.

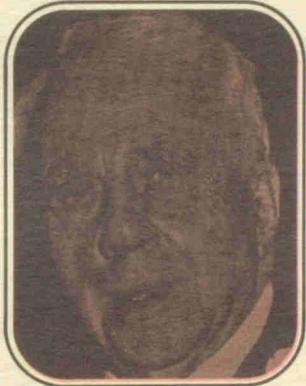

One of the most elementary symbols of the American way of life was established when J. EDGAR HOOVER and his Federal Bureau of Investigation "G-men" set out to clean up the country. His career spanned over 40 years.

The motion-picture industry was revolutionized in America and DAVID WARK GRIFFITH became known as the "Father of the film art" and "king of directors" for his part in this revolution. His camera techniques were the pioneering steps of the industry.

Serving an unprecedented four terms as President of the United States, FRANKLIN DELANO ROOSEVELT was a popular leader who made extensive use of fireside radio chats to explain his plans and generate enthusiasm to push them through Congress.

ROBERT FROST's poetry was clear, understated, well-metered and told the stories of rural America. He was a four-time winner of the Pulitzer Prize and has been called America's poet laureate.

A plain, homely woman with tremendous appeal to the masses, who was always in the "thick of things" describes ELEANOR ROOSEVELT and her lifetime of politicking beside her husband during his four terms.

THURGOOD MARSHALL is the first Negro to serve as a justice of the Supreme Court. His law career was aimed primarily at civil rights cases.

The crippling poliomyelitis was conquered by DR. JONAS SALK in 1953 after more than 25 years of research. Polio was reduced by 96% in less than ten years. SALK's research continues in California at the Salk Institute.

MARTIN LUTHER KING was a leader in the cause of civil rights. He had been a pastor before turning to the cause of segregation. His leadership earned him the Nobel Peace Prize in 1964. He was assassinated by James Earl Ray in 1968.

Lieutenant Colonel JOHN GLENN started America's travels to outer space when he became the first American to orbit the earth. He had been an aviator in World War II and a test pilot in peacetime.

GERALD R. FORD, the first President to achieve the office without an election. In 1974, through a series of scandalous events, the Nixon administration toppled and FORD reached the position through approval by Congress.

PEARS' SOAP

a Specialty for Children.

RELIEF for the DISTRESSED and BALSAM for the WOUNDED is found in PERRY DAVIS'S VEGETABLE PAIN KILLER. Manufactured by PERRY DAVIS & SON, No. 74 HIGH STREET, PROVIDENCE, R. I.

Imagine buying that acre of land you have spotted for $1.25! Or, even at the higher price of $10. Those are the prices offered to our founding fathers to encourage settlement of the wilderness areas of this nation.

A stage wasn't the most comfortable way to go, but you could get from city to city for as little as $3 — at the amazing pace of six miles per hour.

Compare today's wages with a 12-hour day in the early 1800's. A man earned 50¢ a day. Of course his dollar bought a little more than today's. Butter in 1826 was about 5¢ lb. in the Midwest; eggs, 3¢ doz.; corn 6¢ bu., wheat, 25¢ bu.; and a cow could be bought for $5.

With travel becoming the American tradition, you could choose train, wagon, horseback or the water. A canal ride, with bed and board included, averaged 3 or 4¢ per mile. And when you reached your destination, you could sit down to a 5, or even 10 course meal for 25¢. (Ladies 20¢, in consideration of appetite.)

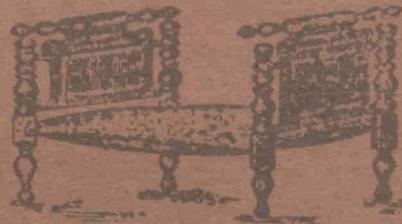

Farmers in the early 1800's could own the famous McCormick Reaper for a mere $100. But the Civil War increased prices as the machine became the first item farmers could buy on time payments for the sum of $1,500.

A good suit of clothes then might cost $1.95 and ladies waists (blouses) were marketed for 49¢ to $3.50 with a whole dress pattern priced at 15¢.

Cookstoves, "quality-satisfaction guaranteed," could cost you $29.25 at $4 per month and a dandy heating stove could set you back as much as $5.73 and up. The first electric refrigerator cost $900 — which might be enough to make you faint on your 1907 fainting couch that had cost a mere $7.85.

Your new baby travelled in the height of fashion in a wicker sleeping coach (stroller) for the sum of $12.04. If you had $1,500 in 1903 you could show off in one of the first automobiles.

Ah, those were the days. Some of the current prices are reminiscent of those days, but at frontier prices, which were a whole different story. Hardy pioneers had to pay $2 a pound for sugar, too. And the same for a pound of coffee or pepper. Those items were only 15¢ per pound back in civilized St. Louis. Flour was marked up 100 times for sale to the frontiersmen and during the famous Gold Rush, that precious commodity went for $400 a barrel.

ARCADE,

OPEN throughout the day, and ILLUMINATED every evening.

Admittance 25 Cents.

This Museum is the oldest and largest establishment in the United States, and contains immense collections of the Animal and Mineral Kingdoms of nature, from all parts of the world. These are all beautifully arranged, so as to enable the visitor to study the objects with the greatest advantage. The collection of implements and ornaments of our aboriginal tribes, is very extensive and interesting, and the Cabinet of Antiquities, and Artificial Curiosities, is not less worthy of attention. In addition to the ordinary attractions of a Museum, there is in this very large collection of the Portraits of American Statesmen and Warriors of the Revolution, and of the most distinguished scientific men of Europe and America.

The founder, C. W. Peale, desirous of securing the Museum permanently in this city, obtained an act of incorporation, by which the stability of the Institution is insured. The act of incorporation secures the use of the Museum in perpetuity in the city, and authorizes the Stockholders to appoint annually five trustees, who meet quarterly to regulate the business of the Institution. Nothing can be removed from the Institution under a penalty, and forfeiture of double the value of the thing removed; hence donations may be made with certainty on the part of the donors, that the articles placed in the Museum will always remain for the public good.
